

Julie Muren, from Jersey, is our new advisor for parents with abducted children. Our parent's network has so far consisted only of Norwegian parents, but we are seeing a growing need for counseling also for foreign parents with children abducted to Norway.

Many believe that Norwegian authorities have high regards and respect for international conventions in child abduction cases, but this is unfortunately not the case. Julie has experienced the Norwegian injustice when her children were taken to Norway and she butted heads in the wall of incomprehension from the judiciary and bureaucracy.

Julie has experience at all levels of the Norwegian Courts and all associate child authorities and how they work. If you are a foreign parent or child and a victim of child Abduction to Norway and need help and advice on what to do and who to contact, or if you just want support for your case.

Julie Muren is fluent English speaking and can be reached on telephone 984 89 181 e-mail: juliemuren@mail.com
